

Terms of Use

Use of our sites (i.e. those at easos.org.uk and associated subdomains) is provided by the Satellite Applications Catapult Limited ('Catapult') and is subject to certain terms of use. Use of these sites constitutes your acceptance of, and agreement to, the following terms and conditions:

1. By using our sites, you agree to be legally bound by these terms, which take effect on your first use thereof.
2. The Catapult may change these terms at any time. Please review the terms regularly to ensure you are aware of any changes made. Your continued use of these sites after changes are posted means you agree to be legally bound by these terms as updated.
3. The Catapult shall not be liable for any direct, indirect, special or consequential damages whether in contract, tort or otherwise, arising from using these sites or the reliance on any information contained within.
4. The Catapult assumes no responsibility, and shall not be liable for, any damages to, or viruses and worms that may damage your computer equipment or other property on account of your access to, use of, or browsing of our sites.
5. If our sites contain a link that is then used to access another website, the linked websites are not under direct control of the Catapult. The Catapult is not responsible for its content and potential damage to your computer. The links are provided for your convenience and it should be noted that the inclusion of any link does not imply endorsement by the Catapult of any kind.
6. By using our sites, you accept that the information contained within them is provided by the Catapult on an "as is" and "as available" basis. You understand that the information is provided without warranty of any kind. The Catapult expressly disclaims all warranties, whether expressed or implied, including, but not limited to, all implied warranties and conditions of merchantability and fitness for any particular purpose, non-infringement and accuracy.
7. Consent to use the EASOS sites has been granted to IPP EASOS partner organisations as listed in "SA Catapult Proposal IPP Malaysia v1.pdf". Other organisations wishing to use the content of our sites should obtain written permission from the Catapult to do so. Without such permission, you may not copy, reproduce, republish, download, make available to other parties, or otherwise use the content of our sites in any way. Moreover, you agree not to adapt, alter or create a derivative work from any content of our sites except for your personal non-commercial and non-academic use.
8. The names, images and logos identifying the Catapult, the EASOS Project or third-parties and their services or products are subject to copyright, design rights and trademarks of the Catapult and/or third-parties. Nothing contained in these terms shall be construed as conferring by implication or otherwise any license or right to use any trademark, patent, design right or copyright of the Catapult, or any other third-party.

These terms shall be governed by and interpreted in accordance with the laws of England and Wales.

The courts of England and Wales shall have non-exclusive jurisdiction in relation to any claim relating to these terms and the use of this website.
